Note: Garry Oak occurrences on City lands are based on data on the City of Victoria's website (<https://opendata.victoria.ca>). Occurrences on private land were documented mainly through observations made from the street, meaning that terrain, buildings, tree and shrub cover, and distance considered to make it difficult to obtain precise locations. In particular, tree locations may be inaccurate or missing entirely, especially from parts of the neighbourhood with large and/or heavily vegetated lots.

Mapping was made at a coarse scale and in many cases clumps of several trees up to 3 metres apart were recorded as a single observation.

Gonzales Hill Regional Park in the southeastern portion of the neighbourhood was not mapped, although it has a very high density of Garry Oak trees.

This mapping project is intended to indicate broad patterns of distribution and abundance not to exhaustively document every tree at precise locations.
